$1100 WANTED FOR CHILDREN

Orleans County Must Not Fail to Meet Its Quota for Great Work

Under direction of Mrs. W. W. Reiden of Barton the work of organizing the county for the purpose of securing help for the Children's Aid society of Vermont, which is working with destitute and needy children and finding them homes, giving them medical aid and bringing neglected children to better things, is fast taking shape.

One check for $100 has already been received and another for $25 and several sections of the county are getting into shape for the canvass.

In Newport C. S. Emery and Rev. H. B. Rankin are organizing the city; in Barton Mrs. E. W. Barron and Mrs. J. F. Batchelder have charge of the work; in North Troy, Miss Nellie Reiden and Mrs. E. V. Young; in Derby Line, Miss Rouse; in Orleans, Mrs. R. A. Hamilton; in Charleston, Mrs. John Buck; in Coventry, Mrs. Henry Goss, and other communities.

Mrs. Reiden organized just as fast as Mrs. Reiden can run them.

The work is among the most worthy causes done by any institution in the state and the sum of $1100 in the county ought easily to be raised.

Let's all do our share.

Ford-Congdon

The following is from the Middle-town, Conn., Press of October 2:
On Saturday afternoon, the 30th, at 3 o'clock, a pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Congdon, on Newfield street, when their daughter, Alice, was united in marriage to Carl Parker Ford, by the Rev. William Harvey Bath, of Norwich, an intimate friend of the family. The wedding march was played by Miss Jennette Stott, of Danvers, Mass., a niece of the groom.

The house was prettily decorated, the ceremony taking place under a canopy of pink and white asters and asparagus fern.

The bride was becomingly attired in white canton crepe, with pearl trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

After the ceremony the happy couple left on a short wedding trip. On their return they will go to their new home at Barton, Vt., where Mr. Ford is a prominent business man.

FARM BUREAU NEWS NOTES

Market Bulletin to Be Issued Weekly for Use of Members.

The Orleans County Farm Bureau executive committee met at the office in Newport September 26th, and transacted a large amount of business for the association. The agents reported on the work being accomplished. A market bulletin will be issued weekly, the first issue probably appearing this week with information that will be of value to the members. Washington county has published such a bulletin for some time and it is filling a real place in the Farm Bureau activities. The membership campaign which was conducted in August was considered a success, as about 175 new members were secured.

Miss Goddard, the new home demonstration agent, met with the committee for the first time, and gave an outline of the work which she is establishing on a permanent basis. There was some discussion as to the dues to be paid by women not belonging to homes represented by the family Farm Bureau membership, and it was voted to leave the amount to be determined by Miss Goddard and Mrs. Bartlett, after consulting with the women who were interested.

The annual meeting will be held at Irasburg Tuesday, October 17, the most centrally located town of the county. During the following two weeks none of the Farm Bureaus of the state will hold their annual meetings and a schedule has been arranged so that speakers can be secured to attend all of them. In accordance with the schedule as arranged by the Extension Service of the University of Vermont and the Vermont Farm Bureau Federation, the meeting will be held Tuesday, October 17th. H. C. McKenzie, a farmer of Walton, N. Y., who is also taxation expert for the Farm Bureau Federation, will come to Vermont to represent the Vermont Farm Bureau Federation at the series of meetings. He will attend all of the meetings and will be accompanied by E. B. Cornell, president of the Vermont Farm Bureau Federation. The Extension Service will send out Professor Bertha M. Terrill, head of the home economics department of the University. The secretary reported upon a part of the Farm Bureau activities which is not generally known—the legislative work in which the local Farm Bureau has cooperated with the state and national federations. Telegrams have been sent by influential men of the county and by the secretary of the Vermont delegation in Congress advising them of the wishes of the local farmers on matters which direction was expressed on the results of the fight in the house over the potato schedule of the new tariff bill. In response to a call from the state office, telegrams were sent to the Vermont representatives, and Porter H. Dale, coming from the territory served by the Orleans County Farm Bureau, was among those who voted to re-committee the bill with instructions to place potato on the free list. This action meant a large saving for the farmers. A special letter of appreciation and thanks has been sent Congressman Dale in recognition of his service.

The members at the meeting were President Dutton, A. C. Cheney, S. B. Bates, E. J. Williams, C. S. Vance, E. M. Sherlaw, A. R. Hudson, Mrs. J. H. Bartlett and B. R. Buchanan.

JAY PEAK DAY SET

Friday, October 20, Day When Northeastern Vermont Will Visit Mountain.

Jay Peak day has finally been set for Friday, October 20, and it is expected speakers from the Green Mountain club will be present at the meeting place at the foot of the peak and if the day is pleasant there is a fine spot for picnicking. Those who desire to do so will find opportunity to climb the mountain.

A committee of five from the Barton Improvement club and a committee of five from the Newport Chamber of Commerce as well as the Green Mountain club is behind Jay Peak day and it is hoped to learn further of the mountain trail now built from the Massachusetts line to Stowe. One of the objects of Jay Peak day is to talk over plans for extending this sky-line trail to Jay Peak. Many prominent people from New York, Boston and other centers are hiking this trail and if extended to Jay Peak it would provide a terminus for the trail which would mean much to this part of the state.

Jay Peak is the fourth highest peak in Vermont and deserves greater exploitation. Remember the day and plan to go.

Audley Graham conducting the services.

The Nellie Gill players made a great hit Thursday evening when they presented "Turn to the Right" at the town hall. An old folks dance followed the play and the old folks seemed to enjoy it.

Word was received Saturday that Mrs. Alida Fairbanks, formerly of this town, died very suddenly at the home of her daughter, Miss Grace, in New York. The remains were brought to Craftsbury where the funeral was held Monday.

Rev. Audley Graham preached his farewell sermon at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and on Monday morning Mr. and Mrs. Graham left town in their car for Mrs. Graham's former home in New York.

The best wishes of their large circle of friends which they have made since coming to Greensboro is extended to them.

Saturday morning a truck carrying a granite monument from Burlington to be erected in the village cemetery in making the hill in the cemetery stalled the engine and the brakes not holding, it ran back down the hill and striking the gatepost on the side of the driveway tore down the gate and one length of fence which checked the speed enough so that the operator was able to throw in the clutch and get control again and stop the truck from going over the bank into the highway.

GREENSBORO

A party of Rebekahs from Montpelier picnicked at Caspian lake Saturday.

Mrs. Charles U. Bear left town Friday afternoon for Detroit, Mich., after spending the summer at the lake.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Jardine was held at her late home at R. A. Ritchie's Friday afternoon and a large number were present. Rev.

BARTON ENTERTAINS O. E. S.

Largely Attended District Meeting Entertains Many Grand Officers.

The annual meeting of District No. 7, O. E. S., was held with Orient Chapter, No. 13, at the Masonic hall in Barton Thursday, September 28. The meeting was called to order soon after 2 o'clock in the afternoon by Mrs. Ibbie Jean R. Swett, D. D. G. M., of Orleans. Mrs. Jessie Miller, grand lecturer, then conducted a school of instruction, assisted by the officers of Lakeside Chapter, No. 27, in which a large part of the work of the order was exemplified in a very capable and instructive manner.

At 4.30 o'clock the meeting was opened in form by Orient Chapter, No. 13, after which a social hour was enjoyed. The company then adjourned to the Congregational church dining rooms which were tastefully decorated, where a splendid banquet was efficiently served to about 250 persons.

The evening session opened with the presentation of grand officers and other distinguished guests, each of whom was presented with flowers. Those present were Mrs. Nellie M. Smythe, G. M., of St. Johnsbury; Arthur C. Tilden, G. P., of Barre; Mrs. Clara E. Brown, grand conductress, of St. Albans; Mrs. Jessie Miller, grand lecturer, of Wallingford; Mrs. Minnie Ruggles, grand warden, of West Burke; Mrs. Edith Tilden, grand Electa, of Barre; Mrs. Florence K. Pierce, P. G. M., of Barton; F. W. Cutting, P. G. P., Barton; Harry D. McCrillis, P. G. P., Cabot; Arthur Lang, P. G. P., St. Johnsbury; Mrs. Hazel Willey, grand representative to Maine, of Orleans; Mrs. Genevieve McCrellis, grand representative to Montana; Mrs. Mabel Ober, grand representative to Texas, of Newport, and Mrs. Mary MacKay, district deputy of District No. 4, of Barre.

After the reception of these guests of honor Mrs. Florence K. Pierce, P. G. M., in a very cordial and pleasing manner welcomed the guests to the local chapter, to which F. J. Kinney, W. P. of Intervale Chapter, No. 61, fittingly responded.

The conferring of the degrees upon two candidates was exemplified by the officers of Intervale Chapter, No. 61, in a very impressive and able manner, which in the review of the work by the grand lecturer, was highly complimented with only a few explanations and corrections. A ladies quartet of Lakeside Chapter, No. 27, of Newport furnished music for the work and a beautiful solo was rendered by Mrs. Wilton of Newport.

In closing, remarks were made by Mrs. Nellie M. Smythe, G. M., who gave both encouragement and instruction to the several chapters of the district. She also explained concerning the purchase of the new Eastern Star home at Rutland and the question of its opening and maintenance. Arthur C. Tilden, G. P., also made a few pleasing remarks but on account of the lateness of the hour words from the other guests of honor were not heard. The entire meeting was presided over by Mrs. Ibbie Jean R. Swett, D. D. G. M., in a way which told of the work and interest with which she had prepared for and planned this meeting. H. A. McGuire, D. D. G. P. of Irasburg was also present and assisted in the success of the affair.

The event was pronounced a splendid success and the attendance was very large, the largest delegations coming from Orleans and Newport.

I. O. O. F. GATHER AT BARTON

Held Large and Enthusiastic District Meeting Last Week.

The annual meeting of Odd Fellows of District No. 5 held at Barton Wednesday evening was one of the most successful in years and drew a large attendance. While only four lodges comprise the district, there were representatives of the order from sixteen different lodges which together with the Grand Lodge officers and guests from the Canadian jurisdiction made the meeting notable one.

At 6.30 sharp the dining room doors were thrown open and up to eight o'clock more than
